

BRITAIN PLACES BURDEN OF WAR ON TURKS' HEAD

Allied Generals Submit the Final Armistice to Moslem Chiefs.

WILL SIGN AT 5 P. M.

Angora Government Must Decide if World is to Have Strife.

(By the Associated Press) MUDANIA, Oct. 10.—The allied generals drew up their final armistice convention here late last evening and submitted it to Ismet Pasha the Turkish nationalist representative.
The Angora government was given until five o'clock this afternoon to accept or reject.
Ismet thanked Lieut. General Harington, the British commander-in-chief, and his colleagues for the sincerity of their intention and reiterated his government's desire for a peaceful solution.
General Charpy of France, General Mobelli of Italy, M. Franklin Bouillon, the French diplomatic representative and Hamid Bey, Turkish nationalist representative, at Constantinople, remained here. Gen-

Harington Plans
to Sail Tuesday

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 10.— The signing of the protocol armistice at Mudania is expected to take place at five o'clock this afternoon, according to an announcement by the Havas agency, the semi-official French news service.

Lieutenant General Harington and his staff, who arrived here on the Iron Duke at 1:45 this morning, expected to return to Mudania at 3
p. m.

Met at the pier on his arrival by the correspondent, General Harington said:

"The convention we submitted to the nationalists last evening is Great Britain's last word. It now rests with the Angora government whether the world shall have peace or war."

COLLEGE BOOSTS SECOND STAGING OF LEGION PLAY

College students and members of Norman Howard post of the American Legion have gotten solidly behind a project to present "The Belle of Richmond," a comedy, the second time, according to legion post officers. The show will be staged Thursday night at 8:15 in the college auditorium under auspices of the Legion and of the college athletic association.

Part of the proceeds of the performance will be devoted to defraying the expenses of bringing good football and basketball teams here so Ada fans can see the best in sport that the state affords. It will also go to help worthy students earn their way through the college.

Members of "The Belle of Richmond" cast will rehearse in the college auditorium Wednesday night as the only preparation necessary for rehearsing the production.

A large number of college students were unable to get seats the first time the comedy was presented.
It is understood, and elaborate preparations are being planned to boost it now.

Only Five Report to Night School Class as it is Organized

Only five reported for the night school which was to have opened under the direction of Ada high school Monday night, according to reports from school authorities today. More than a score had signed up for the work.

This was something of a disappointment to school officials who said that at least twelve students would be needed before the school could be opened. Efforts are still being made to get the required number. The others are expected to take up the work later, in case present plans materialize.

On account of the small number which reported, the class was dismissed subject to call in the near future. Pledges are being obtained in an effort to get twelve students to take up the work. It was pointed out that this would be a great opportunity for many working boys and girls to get extra study work.

In 1920 the United States was spending an average of $5.62 per capita on public schools.

American Beauties Surpass French Mam'zelles in Looks

Duchess of Tallyrand, formerly Anna Gould, was matrimonially speaking, to comment on French men arising to remark that American girls excell French maids in charm. She said American are much more sparkling, never dull and invariably married.

STATE ARRAIGNS BOY FOR MURDER

Clifford Hayes, 19, Charged With Killing Pastor and Choir Leader.

(By the Associated Press)
SOMERVILLE, N. J., Oct. 10.— Nineteen-year-old Clifford Hayes pleaded not guilty to a charge of murdering Rev. Hall and Mrs. Mills, but was held by the justice of the peace without bail for action by the grand jury.

Authorities announced with a show of confidence upon Hayes' arrest yesterday that the Mills-Hall mystery had been solved, but evinced less satisfaction with the turn the case took today. One investigator said they are now working on another lead which if it develops, will explain the motive for the murder and how Mrs. Mills' throat was slashed.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct.
10.—Clifford Hayes, 19 years old, who was arrested yesterday charged with the first degree murder of Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and his choir leader, Mrs. Eleanor Rhine-hardt Mills, was scheduled for arraignment in court today. With his friend, Raymond Schneider, 21 years old, arrested as a material witness, Hayes spent the night in the county jail. Hayes was held in communi-cadero, while Schneider was subjected to another long questioning during the night by detectives in an effort to obtain further details.

Hayes steadfastly denied the allegations made by Schneider that the double slaying was a case of mistaken identity with the intended victims being 15-year old Pearl Bahmer, and her stepfather, Nicholas Bahmer. The only theory so far advanced by the authorities for Hayes' motive was a desire to right a supposed wrong done a friend, Schneider, although married, was admittedly very friendly with the Bahmer girl.

Schneider is Sane
Officials at the local prosecutor's office said Schneider was not mentally strong.

Nicholas Bahmer, father of Pearl, took exception to the story she told yesterday to the effect that he was intoxicated on the night of the murder. He insisted he was perfectly sober and was sitting on his porch when Pearl came to him and asked him to take a walk. During their walk, Bahmer said, Pearl told him of Schneider's attentions. He told her he had bought a .45 caliber pistol and would protect her.

Pearl said today she was sure Clifford Hayes did not kill the minister and Mrs. Mills.

"If they take me before the prosecutor again," she said, "I will tell a real story."

Charlotte Mills, sixteen year old daughter of the murdered woman,
said:

"You will never make me believe that Clifford shot my mother and Mr. Hall. I know Ray Schneider and I don't think he had sense enough to do it."

IRISH PRISONERS ATTEMPT A BREAK

Guard and Inmate Killed in Fierce Fighting, Dublin Reports.

(By the Associated Press) DUBLIN, Oct. 10.—Armed with smuggled revolvers, Irish irregulars, army prisoners in Mt. Joy jail here, made a determined attempt to escape today. In the fighting within the jail walls one guard and a prisoner were killed, while five guards and several prisoners were wounded. The outbreak was subdued after fifteen minutes of struggle.

The military guard in the prison was taken by surprise. The trouble began near the mess room when a prisoner shot one of the guards dead. Other prisoners occupying sheltered positions blazed away with suddenly produced weapons. Some of the guards were ordered to leave the jail and prevent any attack that might be attempted from the outside, while the others engaged the mutineers.

The attack apparently was planned from the outside and besides the arms and ammunition being smuggled into the prison, it was discovered that the telephone wires had been cut.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—An outbreak occurred in the Mt. Joy jail, Dublin, this morning when their regular prisoners attacked the guards with revolvers which had been smuggled in, says an Evening News dispatch from Dublin. One guard was shot and killed and five others were wounded. The military guards returned the fire, killed one irregular prisoner and wounded several others.

OKMULGEE HIGH COACH PRAISES ADA GRIDSTERS

In a recent letter from Coach Peterson, of Okmulgee high school, a distinct compliment was paid to Coach C. R. Cox and his football team. The letter was written as a result of the Okmulgee-Ada football game played here September 29.

Coach Peterson said he was well pleased with his treatment while in Ada. He expressed the hope that Ada would win all the remaining games as she had won the first.
Success of the team was due to the excellent coaching work on the part of C. R. Cox, he believes. Ada high school treated the Okmulgee team as royally as it was ever treated, according to the coach.

Cox is taking the squad to Wetumka Friday. Wetumka, although losing its first two games, 19 to 0 with Prague and 26 to 13 with Henryetta, is showing up well and will be in good condition for the game with the locals.

Captain Angus Buchanan, a Scotchman, is now deep in the heart of the Sahara seeking traces of former civilization.

ADA LIONS WILL BACK SCOUTS IN FUND CAMPAIGN

Young Speaker Presents Need of Troops in Speech Tuesday.

DUNN PRAISES WORK

Few Places in State Can Equal Ada's Record in Official's Belief.

The Lions Club at its regular semi-monthly luncheon today listened to reports of the work of the Boy Scouts, this being the second anniversary of the taking over of the responsibility by the Lions of this movement. The report of the Scout Executive had been prepared in advance and was distributed to members.

An appeal for assistance in repairing and making additions to the scout lodge at the lake was made by Master Jack Conn, who delivered a strong appeal. He also thanked the Lions for their generosity in the past and implored them to furnish the scout room in the Memorial hall when that building is completed.
Jack's appeal found a ready response on the part of the Lions, who insisted that Jack and his friends should have the aid needed.

Jack is only twelve years old, but has received the highest honors possible in the work, according to Harry Miller, Scout Executive.

Dunn Explains Work
A. C. Dunn of Dallas, one of the Scout executives from Headquarters for Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico, explained many things in connection with Scout work. The movement was started in 1910. At this time there are 600 paid men devoting their time to the work, and 122,000 volunteers. Several hundred thousand boys are receiving the training in practical citizenship.

Mr. Dunn praised the work here, and said there are few places in Oklahoma which can equal the local record. He outlined some of the advantages boys receive from scouting and the effects it will have upon the future men of the nation.

Campaign Soon
A campaign is to be conducted in the near future to raise funds for the work another year. The Lions were enthusiastic in their attitude towards the movement.

Guests of Harmon Ebeley at the luncheon were Messrs. Atkinson, Trueblood and Cline, all from Oklahoma City and representing the Oklahoma Insurance Bureau. These men are making a survey of the business houses with a view of re-rating the city for fire insurance.
Mr. Atkinson advised business men to get their premises into the best condition possible in order that they may save on their insurance rate. Rubber hose connection for gas stoves, gasoline in the houses and other hazards will increase the rate, he says.

It was pointed out that last year Oklahoma burned $35,000,000 worth of property, and the loss this year will be still greater.

Japan Inquires Into Sinclair Concession on Sakhalien Island

TOKIO, Oct. 10.—The Japanese foreign office is inquiring into the report from Peking that the Sinclair Oil company of California has been granted by the far eastern Republic of Siberia a concession for prospecting and developing the north half of Sakhalien Island, a territory occupied by the Japanese troops as a security for claims against the Russians.

Some of the Japanese newspapers protest against this invasion of the island during the Japanese occupation. Thus far the foreign office has not acted in the matter.

Ada to Get First of Bond Money at Once

Last Technicality Swept Aside by Attorney for Buyers of Issue.

Delays on starting Ada's $100, 000 memorial convention hall came suddenly to an end Tuesday afternoon with the receipt of a telegram from G. I. Gilbert, Oklahoma City, one of the bond buyers, announcing that the city's bonds had been approved by the buyers' attorney and that part of the money would be forwarded to Ada Wednesday.

This brings to a termination a series of circumstances which have held up payment of the money for several weeks.

As soon as money on the bonds is received here and the memorial site paid for, calls for bids on old buildings now on the property will be issued. The building can then be under way within a short time.

Postponement of payment on the bonds came through no error of city officials. About two weeks ago, City Attorney Lowery Harrell went to Oklahoma City and straightened out the last remaining question raised in connection with the bonds.
This arose from a technicality that came to light after they had been signed by Assistant County Attorney Hugh F. Mathis. Previous to that City Attorney Harrell had filed a brief showing Mathis to have the power and authority, under the state constitution, to endorse the paper.

It will now be but a question days until the money is delivered and work begun, according to Finance Commissioner Charley Deaver.

Ada's $100,000 memorial-convention hall will be one of the most complete and perhaps the most representative yet planned by any city of this size in Oklahoma, architects believe. Revised plans for the building are now on display in the office of Mayor W. H. Fisher.

REGISTRATION TO OPEN OCTOBER 18

age of 21 since the August primary election.

The city of Ada has been divided into nine precincts and it will be necessary for all electors in the city they were previously registered, the notice said.

District Court Now Opening Grind Upon Long Civil Docket

With its motion docket disposed of Monday, machinery of the Tonto county district court was turned today upon a lengthy civil docket which probably will keep the court busy for two or three weeks.

ed: J. M. Keltner Grocery company vs. Brown and Tolbert, appeal, judgment granted and appeal bond set at $400, ten days being given to file bond; Mrs. J. W. Davis and C. H.
Rives vs. G. M. Davis, damages, motion overruled and ten days given to file an answer; H. G. Foster vs.
U. G. Winn, money on note, motion money on note, motion overruled and ten days given to file answer.

Cocktail Mixer Fixes 9,746,855 Drinks on Boat

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—La Touraine, oldest passenger ship plying between France and the United States, starts on her last trip tomorrow.
Her owner, the French Line, has decided to dispose of the 30-year-old vessels upon arrival to Harve. La Touraine is famous for having crossed the Atlantic more times than any other passenger vessel and for having the most expert cocktail mixer among passenger ships.
Louis Gautier estimates has served as many cocktails as he has traveled miles —9,746,855.

CHURCH REGRETS LOSS OF PASTOR

Resolutions Praises Ada Minister for Work in Local Affairs.

Resolutions of regret at losing Rev. H. H. Wood as pastor but of congratulation to the Maywood Christian church at Oklahoma City upon securing his services, have been passed by the local Christian church and were made public Tuesday.

They follow:
Whereas, Brother Harry M. Wood has been pastor of the First Christian church at Ada for nearly two years, during which time there has been a gratifying growth of every phase of the work of the church here, resulting in an increased attendance in our Bible school, renewed interest in our young peoples work, and an increase of one hundred and eighty in our church membership, and

Whereas, this encouraged growth has been due in a large measure to the energy, zeal and consecration of Brother Harry M. Wood, and

Whereas, Brother Woods and his family have been exemplary citizens and Christians during their stay in Ada, always active in all causes which had for their subject the improvement of the spiritual, educational and social conditions not only of our own brotherhood, but also of the entire citizenship of our community, and

Whereas, Brother Harry M. Woods has accepted a call to become pastor of another church, therefore

Be it resolved, that we, the official board of the First Christian church of Ada, hereby extend to Brother Woods and family our heartfelt thanks for the good work that they have done for the advancement of the Kingdom and for the advancement of all other worthy causes while they have labored among us, that we wish them a good speed and a God speed in their new field of endeavor, and that we hereby express our regret at their termination to sever their official connection with this church, and

Be it further resolved, that we commend Brother Woods and his family to the brotherhood of the Maywood Christian church at Oklahoma City, believing that Maywood church will be greatly blessed by reason of Brother Woods coming to that church, and

Be it further resolved, that we make these resolutions a part of the official records of the First Christian church at Ada and that a copy of these resolutions be given to the press and a copy be transmitted to the official board of the Maywood Christian church at Oklahoma City.

Board, First Christian church.

Immigration Rules Create a Shortage of Mine Laborers

CLEVELAND, Oct. 10.—The board of directors of western division of the American Mining Congress in convention here today presented a resolution to the congress regarding the labor shortage in metal mining industries ascribing as the cause "the shortage of present immigration restriction" and proposing that the convention appoint a committee to investigate conditions.

The resolution provides that this committee report to the board of directors of the American Mining Congress which will "provide for such action as shall afford relief."

ANNIVERSARY OF FIRST TRAIN ON ROAD OBSERVED

Rock Island Runs Special From Chicago Today in Honor of Event.

ITS 70TH BIRTHDAY

Former Presidents Given Same Honor as Lowly Section Laborers.

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—A special train rolled out of the LaSalle street station this morning just 70 years to the minute after the "first run" to Joliet, Ill., on the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad.
At the throttle was Charles Hayden, chairman of the board of directors of the Rock Island.

The re-enactment of the first run from Chicago to Joliet was part of the railroad company's celebration of seventy years of service. The principal parts of the observation took place in Chicago and Joliet but the anniversary was also commemorated in special ceremonies in scores of cities and hamlets along the Rock Island's eight thousand miles of road. The American flag hung from homes of Rock Island employees throughout the west.

Aboard the train was President J. E. Gorman of the Rock Island and other officials of the road, including officers of the Union Pacific and its president, Carl R. Gray, and Mrs. W. W. Stevens of Hubbard Woods, Ill., who was a passenger on that first train in 1852.

At Joliet, the officers were to take part in the dedication of a boulder monument to the late Samuel Benedict Reed, civil engineer, who surveyed the Rock Island's original line which was the first to reach and bridge the Mississippi river.

In scores of cities throughout the west and middle west tree plantings were to take place in honor of deceased employees of the road. Ceremonies were to be in charge of local committees and were to be exactly the same whether in memory of former presidents or section hands of the road.

After the return to Chicago of the official party, a luncheon for pensioned employees who served 50 years or more was to be held and bronze medals presented to them.
Similar medals were to be given to 50-year employees still in the service. Thomas Knight of Ft. Worth, a former locomotive engineer, was to respond for the pensioned employees.

POOLING CREDIT AND PURCHASING NOW ADVOCATED

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—Pooling of purchasing power and credits by independent refiners will be brought before the annual meeting of the National Petroleum Marketers Association opening here today and continuing through Friday.

Members of the association who advocated this so co-operative buying is necessary if the association members are to continue to sell high est gasoline. Without some guaranteed source of supply at prices that are not prohibitive they say they will be at a distinct disadvantage. The question of taxes on gasoline for road building will be placed before the meeting for discussion.
Some contend that such facts are "blessings in disguise."

As a part of the meeting there will be more than fifty exhibits of machinery and equipment used in refining and marketing petroleum.

W. C. T. U. To Meet
W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs.
John Wood Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.
Mrs. Westbrook, secretary.

The legislature will be in session in a few more weeks and the usual rush for appropriations will begin. The various state institutions are always on hand with their claims and cannot be blamed for it because they would not likely stand much chance unless they made their wants and needs plain. However, we are of the opinion we have always held that the state schools, at least, should be supported from the proceeds of a special tax to be apportioned among them. In this way they will have a fixed income and there will be no need for lobbying for appropriations. This is the best way to remove the schools from politics. As a matter of fact, a large part of the money expended for state schools comes from the income from the land with which they were endowed, but under the present law this must be turned into the treasury and appropriated by legislative action. What is lacking of course comes from the tax receipts anyway, so it might as well be arranged for a certain tax to go to this purpose and put an end to the present uncertain system.

Democrats everywhere will be glad to hear that the word comes to Washington that Champ Clark's old district is going to be redeemed by his brilliant young parliamentary expert, Cannon. He will come to Congress rarely and splendidly equipped for the job, having had more than ten years qualifying experience around Congress. He will possess an unusual equipment—farmer, lawyer, school teacher, parliamentarian. It was he who re-wrote and brought down to date the eight great volumes on parliamentary law left as a heritage from the late Asher Hinds. Speaker Clark always said that a man had to learn to be a Congressman, just as one has to learn to be a doctor, a farmer or a lawyer. If so, Cannon has taken the course and a post-graduate course on top of it. The fact that constituencies should select their Congressman like they would select their road engineer or their county agent—on ability to put the job over in good shape.

The Near Eastern situation bids fair to result in an abject surrender to the Turks. Kemal Pasha judged that he could put one over the allies and is about to do so. Present indications are that the allies will clear out of Constantinople and turn Thrace back to the Turks leaving them more firmly entrenched than ever to carry on their work of killing Christians and making Turkey decidedly unsafe for any but Turks. Of course they will some day overstep the limit of endurance, just as they have several times in the past, and another thrashing will be in order, but just now they are the bosses of the Near East and the allies are meekly submitting.

Encouraging reports come from Minnesota regarding the progress being made by Mrs. Anna Olesen, Democratic nominee for United States senator. The plucky little woman is canvassing the state personally and her many friends are working zealously in her behalf. Usually an election in Minnesota is just a Democratic funeral, but this time the hearse is in a fair way to be transformed into a bandwagon with Mrs. Olesen in the driver's seat.

As long as fires are frequent and losses heavy so long will insurance rates be high. Insurance in the last analysis is just a means of spreading out the losses among many policy holders instead of letting all the loss fall on the shoulders of the ones who lose. Most fires are preventable but Americans are proverbially careless, hence the fires continue and the insurance companies collect big premiums. Every premium is a contribution towards paying some fellow's loss.

The Republican leaders insisted on John Fields making the race for governor because they thought he was extremely popular among the farmers and could swing a big farmer vote in November. From all indications they will be disappointed for Walton is proving some vote getter among farmers and the chances are that he will get the votes of more farmers in the habit of voting the Republican ticket than Fields will be able to hold in line.

This year the Republicans are appealing to the public to vote for the man and not the party. They did not put that into practice two years ago when Manuel Herick was in the running, although no one could claim that Herick was in the same class with his Democratic opponent in the matter of ability. The same thing applied in the case of Scott Ferris and J. W. Harreld.

State Superintendent R. H. Wilson who ran second in the race for the Democratic nomination for governor, is now on the stump for Walton and the rest of the Democratic ticket. Wilson is proving himself a good loser who can take his medicine without making a face and kicking about it.

The Forum of the Press

The Real Aristocracy.
 (Kansas City Journal)

President Hopkins of Dartmouth college recently gave expression to what first appears to be a startling statement when he declared there is an aristocracy of brains, and that opportunities for obtaining an education by way of a college course are a privilege and not a universal right, unless it be regarded as a right which is far too often abused. This is not the biggest philosophy of a "blue stocking," but a sound statement, as the president's elaboration of his point revealed.

Certainly there is an aristocracy of brains. It is to be found in every educational institution of the land, whether it is a small denominational school or a great university. In many cases that aristocracy is found after class hours waiting tables at a restaurant, working for the college janitor, carrying newspapers and denying itself the usual pleasures of college life in order that expenses can be paid without imposing on needy parents at home.

Every college has its aristocracy. It is not the young fellows who jar the dust from the classic halls with the exhaust of their automobiles, nor the ones who can dance the best, nor the ones whom the social organizations are the most eager to include in their membership. It is a real aristocracy, and it is made of sterner stuff. It is entirely capable of driving a delivery wagon on Saturday afternoon during the football game and of remaining in town during the holidays in order to earn a little extra money.

All colleges are not democratic in the true sense, and they can never be. There will always be the intellectual aristocracy on the one hand, and the intellectual proletariat on the other. Social position, parental wealth and personal popularity are mere details that figure not at all in the determination of the line dividing the two classes. The social definition of the term is inadequate and inaccurate.

A college education is indeed a privilege, to be shared first of all by those who want it, see the advantages of it, and who get it even if they spend four years in a rooming house attic apart from the glamour that ordinarily is supposed to accompany college life.

Fire Insurance Rates.
 (Lawton Constitution.)

There are some persons who think that because they do not pay fire insurance premiums, there is no particular reason why they should be interested in the lowering of insurance rates. But, if they will consider the matter carefully they will find that the cost of fire insurance enters into the selling price of practically all, if not all, the articles which the public buys. The man who owns the building in which he does business must charge enough for his products to make a reasonable profit, after paying for his insurance on building and stock. The man who rents the building in which he does business must charge enough for his articles to make a reasonable profit, after paying the insurance on his stock and perhaps for a higher rent due to high insurance rates, says the Oklahoman.

Insurance rates would be lowered if the number of fires were reduced. That the number can be reduced by proper co-operation is certain.

Of all the fires in the United States, 885 percent are preventable. More than $500,000,000 damage is caused annually by fires in this country and the annual loss of life from fires is more than 15,000 persons. It has been estimated that every minute there is a fire that causes loss of property or human life, in this country.

The loss from fires in the United States is so great that much more stress should be laid on fire prevention. Each year, there is a fire prevention week, which is observed generally throughout the country. Such a week is being observed now, in Oklahoma, and in the other states. The observance of such a week is beneficial. It concentrates the attention of the public upon the need for greater precautions. However, there should be more frequent public concentration upon the problem of fire prevention than one week each year. It would be advisable to have a Fire Prevention day, at least one time each month. On such a day, talks on fire prevention could be made at the various men's clubs, women's clubs and other organizations and facts in regard to fire losses for the month could be given the public through the newspapers.

The New Interstate Road Plan.
 (Oklahoman.)

With the formation of the Texas-Oklahoma-Kansas Highway association at a meeting of good roads advocates at Ardmore, the better highways movement received a strong forward impetus.

The association is to work for the construction of a hard-surfaced highway from Wichita to Fort Worth, by way of Oklahoma City and Ardmore, Okla., and Gainesville, Texas. Some links of the highway have already been built. The rest of them should be constructed as soon as possible. However, it may take longer to have them built than the two or three years estimated by road boosters who attended the association's meetings. It will all

Husband Helped in Housework—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Strong

Foster, Oregon.—"I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for pains across the small of my back. They bothered me so badly that I could do my work only with the help of my husband. One day he saw the 'ad.' in our paper telling what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is doing for women, so I began to take it. It has helped me wonderfully. I am feeling fine, do all my housework and washing for seven in the family. I have been irregular too, and now am all right. I am telling my friends what it has done for me and am sure it will do good for others. You can use this letter as a testimonial. I will stand up for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound any time."—Mrs. Wm. Jurnke, Foster, Oregon.

Doing the housework for a family of seven is some task. If you, as a housewife, are troubled with backache, irregularities, are easily tired out and irritable, or have other disagreeable ailments caused by some weakness, give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. Let it help you.

Town Without Books Asks State Attorney to Aid in Emergency

(By the Associated Press)

WATTS, Okla., Oct. 10.—The board of education of this town is considering the recommendation of the state attorney general that in order to secure an agency for the sale of public school books here the board guarantee to the Oklahoma Book company the proceeds from the sale of all books.

The recommendation was made in reply to a query by Miss Lucy J. Patterson, county superintendent of instruction at Stillwater.

At the opening of the school year the book company refused to sell school books in Watts. Miss Patterson asked the attorney general to take action to see that the books were placed on sale there.

The attorney general replied recently that after careful investigation he found that the sales agency which has heretofore handled school books in Watts is in arrears to the company for the books sold last year.

He said further that under a rule of the state text book commission adopted several years ago the book company could not be compelled to furnish books for sale in towns of less than 500, and Watts is in that classification.

His suggestion of a way out of the difficulty was for the school board to guarantee payment to the company for books sold.

Bouquets for Living

It is with much pleasure that I hand a bouquet of compliments and gratitude to the heads of our public school system for the musical atmosphere they are creating in our town. Since the organization of the high school band and orchestra, many of our young girls and boys have taken up work on the different instruments until now it is no trouble to have a complete orchestra of the wood, wind, reed, stringed and instruments of percussion.

Another thing noticed is the quality of the music. Ragtime and jazz will soon be things of the past, for as musical growth comes on a student of music will find the jangle and syncopated stops a real jar to the musical nerves. A serious study in music, as in the study of literature or art, will bring about a desire for the best to be had in that line. A student of literature will not sit down with the trashy yellow backed novels for his reading matters, neither will an art student be satisfied with less than the best of art subjects to study. So with a continued study of compositions now being given to our young musicians, we shall soon be hearing Wagner, Brahms or Strauss in our school auditoriums.

EUGENE FIELD'S STONE UNVEILED

Memorial Revealed Tuesday Honors Poet Beloved
by Children.

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Oct. 10. — A monument to Eugene Field, the "children's poet," was unveiled in Lincoln Park this afternoon, commemorating by its erection, the interest of the children of Chicago in the author of "Little Boy Blue," "Wynken, Blynken and Nod," and the rest of his series of lullabies.

The children, through newspaper funds, raised nearly $10,000 toward the cost of the memorial, the remainder being donated by the Ferguson Fund, a trust founded by its donor for the erection of statues in the city's public parks.

Two small grandchildren of the poet, Jean Field Foster and Robert Field, pulled the cords which unveiled the monument.

Melville E. Stone, counsellor and former general manager of the Associated Press, delivered the principal address. Mr. Stone while associated with Mr. Victor Lawson in the publication of the Chicago Daily News, brought the poet to Chicago from Denver in 1883, and he remained with the News until his death in 1896.

Angel Guards Them

The memorial shows a brooding angel hovering over two sleeping children and dropping the sand of dreams into their eyes. Beneath, on one side, are carved the opening lines of the poet's "Dutch Lullaby": Wynken, Blynken and Nod one night,

Sailed off in a wooden shoe—Sailed on a river of crystal light Into a sea of dew.

Opposite are four lines from the "Sugar Plum Tree":
"Sugar Plum Tree, Sugar Plum Tree!" Have you ever heard of the Sugar Plum Tree?

"Tis a marvel of great renown, It blooms on the shore of the 'lullaby' pop sea

In the garden of Shut Eye Town.
A fountain, marble benches and the plain inscription "To Eugene Field" complete the memorial. It was designed by Edward McCartan, of New York City, Slason Thompson, a newspaper friend of Mr. Field's Chicago days, presided. Besides Mr. Stone, the Rev. William E. Barton also spoke, and Mrs. Louise Harrison Slade sang the "Dutch Lullaby."

Eugene Field was born at St. Louis in 1850, either on September 2 or 3. The Field family genealogy gives the latter date as the correct one, though the poet for most of his life observed the former as his birth date.

His mother died when he was six and most of his youth was spent at the home of his cousin, Miss Mary F. French, at Amherst, Mass. His devotion to Miss French found expression when he published his first volume of verse, which he dedicated to her.

Following a trip to Europe shortly after he attained his majority, he became a newspaper photographer at St. Louis, later going to St. Joseph, Kansas City and Denver.

Altho most of his working life was spent in newspaper offices, and the columns he conducted won fame, his newspaper career has been practically forgotten by many, while millions know his poems. Most of his verses originally appeared in his column "Sharps and Flats" in the Chicago Daily News and in similar columns in other cities.

Of all his writings none is better known, perhaps, than the poignant lines of "Little Boy Blue."
The little boy dog is covered with dust,

But sturdy and staunch he stands;
And the little toy soldier is red with rust,

And his musket moulds in his hands.
Time was when the little toy dog was new

And that was the time when our Little Boy Blue Kissed them and put them there.

His own feeling toward his verses was revealed after his death when his brother, Roswell M. Field, found among his papers a tribute to his pen, written as a dedication for his works, in which he said, in part:

"My pen, let us say to these children of ours these words: Go forth, little lyrics, and sing to the hearts of men. This beautiful world is full of song, and thy voice may not be heard of all—but sing on, children of ours, sing to the hearts of men and thy song shall at least swell the universal harmony that bespeaketh God's love and the sweetness of humanity."

LIFE IN SOUTH SEAS

IS SHOWN ON SCREEN
Every angle of South Sea Island life is presented in "The Bonded Woman," Betty Compson's latest Paramount starring feature, which comes to the McSwain theatre next Wednesday.

Some authors and globe-trotters maintain that the South Pacific is an idyllic paradise of love and languor, while others using the same examples, say that the islands are full of immorality and disease. In the picture, John Bowers, the leading man, goes to one island and finds all the hula girls and diversion that he's looking for. Then Miss Compson, as the heroine, comes along and takes him to another island—an uninhabited one, however,—and reforms him completely. So it seems to be more a matter of inclination than of latitude.

The scenario of "The Bonded Woman" was prepared by Albert S. LeVina, and Philip E. Rosen directed.

INFANT ESCAPES INJURY IN DYNAMITING

Above, view of the destroyed and damaged buildings. Below, Infant Forhan, thrown from his cradle in the Forhan home a block away by the force of the blast.

Labor difficulties are blamed for the series of dynamite explosions which wrecked four houses, under construction, in Garfield Heights, a suburb of Cleveland. Charges under two other houses failed to explode. Two sticks of dynamite near these buildings were stepped upon and broken by firemen and searchers. Fire followed the blasts. Loss is set at $30,000. An infant son of J. P. Forhan, in a home near the dynamited buildings, was blown from his crib and showered with broken glass, but escaped unhurt.

With the Women of Today

By EDITH MORIARTY

Lady Maitland.

Lady Maitland of England, the wife of Lord Lauderdale's heir, has written a play for the films founded upon a true story connected with a famous member of her husband's family, an Earl of Lauderdale of the seventeenth century.

The heroine of it is Midsie Magle, wife of a tenant on the Lauderdale estate at Thirlestane Castle, Berwickshire, who repaid their landlord's kindness in letting her husband off his rent during hard times by conveying to him when he was a prisoner money, which enabled him to escape abroad.

CHEER FOR THE FLESHY

Fat women have it all over the small, skinny ones in business save in the matter of clothes. That is the dictum of Mrs. Elizabeth Sears, president of the New York Business and Professional Women's League, Inc.

Normally the large woman is the biggest success in business, Mrs. Sears says. She has more natural poise and dignity, a better approach to people, a more cheerful disposition and a better understanding of people. People have confidence in her immediately because of her size. She commands attention on entering an office and can devote all of her attention to the problem in hand instead of devoting part of it to selling her personality as well as her wares, which the small woman must do.

The one thing standing in her way has been clothes. The fat woman has been forced to wear clothes designed for the small fluffy type of woman and has lost by it. Her size has been emphasized instead of minimized.

HITS ABOUT WOMEN

Dr. M. Carey Thomas, retiring president of Bryn Mawr College, after twenty-eight years of service, is the first woman to receive a degree from John Hopkins University.

Women voted 2,000 years ago. This has been proved by recent excavations at Pompeii.

Miss Bretta Nilsson of Kalskrona, Sweden, has been selected as best typifying the prevailing feminine physical characteristics of the country.

Miss Helen Quinn is assistant secretary of the California State Federation of Labor, representing more than 100,000 workers.

There were 879 women studying medicine in the medical colleges of the country last year, or 61 more than in 1919-20. They comprised 69 percent of the medical students.

Women jurors have proved a big success in England, especially in matters of sex.

GOVERNMENT TO TAKE INTEREST IN ITS RAILWAY

VANCOUVER, B. C. Oct. 10. — (Canadian Press) — Recommendation concerning the future of the Pacific Great Western railway will be made by the government at the next session of the British Columbia legislature. Premier John Oliver announced on his return from an inspection trip. The nature of these recommendations will be determined in the meantime.

The premier's survey followed publication of the report of John G. Sullivan, consulting engineer, who condemned the entire undertaking and held out no hope for the future of the project which has cost the taxpayers of the province more than forty-four million dollars.

As originally surveyed, the Pacific Great Western was designed to serve the territory between North Vancouver and Prince George, a stretch of four hundred and seventy-two miles. The line has been built and is in operation from North Vancouver to Whitechiff, a distance of twelve and a half miles, and from Squamish to Quesnel, three hundred and fifty miles. From Quesnel to Cottonwood, seventeen and one-half miles, steel is laid but the road is not in operation. Between Cottonwood Creek and Red Rock Creek, 45 miles, ties and steel fastenings are on the ground, but the track is not laid. From Red Rock Creek to the junction of the Pacific Great Western and the Grand Trunk Pacific, one mile east of Prince George, the track is laid but not in operation. This distance is eighteen miles.

Two and one-half million pounds of steel, nearly enough for the construction of a bridge over the Cottonwood river, has been fabricated at Walkerville, Ont., and is awaiting shipment. It has been paid for. To complete this bridge 1,900,000 pounds more steel must be purchased. Concrete foundations must be built and $40,000 feet of a total of 8,000,000 feet of trestles required must be purchased. The remainder of the trestle work has been provided.

Completion of the gap between Quesnel and Prince George would cost about $2,000,000 more and the whole line from North Vancouver, to Prince George, an added $6,000,000, according to Mr. Sullivan's report. Necessary renewals in the next ten years, Mr. Sullivan believes, would cost about $8,000,000 at present construction prices.

NO STARS FEATURED IN FILM "AMERICA'S ANSWER"

There are no particular stars in "America's Answer" which is completing a 2-day run at the American theatre today under auspices of the American legion.

It is the one picture which requires a hundred million people in the making—they are all stars. It is the picture all America played a part in during the war.

"America's Answer" came as a response to the challenge of the ambitious German monarch. It was the greatest answer of united force, patriotism and unselfishness that the world has ever seen. It was the answer that safeguarded the entire civilized world from Prussian Kultur.

How America trained, clothed and armed more than two million men and sent the majority of them across a pond undermined my German submarines, and then supplied Great Britain, France and Belgium with hundreds of millions of tons of supplies and material as well as a wealth of money is shown in the picture.

England's coastline is 2,200 miles long.

AT THE McSWAIN THEATRE

Mr. Fields' position with reference to Educational Affairs is as follows:

Expenditures for education constitute the greatest item of the expense of government, both state and local. Increasing popular demand for higher education has at last resulted in a real need for all of the state educational institutions which have been established in Oklahoma. Their work must be co-ordinated and developed. Competition of state institutions with the public schools must be stopped. Equal opportunities for the elementary education of all children, whether living in cities, towns, or on farms, must be provided. Efficiency of teachers—not their political activity—should be the determining condition of their employment. I shall insist that State Educational Institutions live within their means, as limited by appropriations made by the legislature. But the appropriations made to these institutions by the legislature should be sufficient, if expended with economy and good judgment, to provide adequate facilities for all of them to meet the demands of the people for education.

NOTED AMERICAN FINANCIER DEAD

Isaac Guggenheim Passes Away in England at Early Hour Today.

SOUTH HAMPTON, Oct. 10.—Isaac Guggenheim, American capitalist and copper magnate, died here suddenly today.

Mr. Guggenheim came here in his motor car from London yesterday to meet Henry W. Marsh, who arrived on yesterday's steamer. Both were stopping at the principal hotel.

Just before retiring, Mr. Guggenheim complained of pains in the chest which he attributed to indigestion. This morning was too indisposed to breakfast and a physician was sent for but Mr. Guggenheim died before the doctor arrived.

For some time Mr. Guggenheim had not been in the best of health and it is understood he had a slight stroke a short time ago but had been able to get about and had arranged to return to New York on next Saturday's steamer.

A coroner's inquest will be held this afternoon to consider whether an autopsy is necessary. Mrs. Guggenheim and their daughter are on the way to South Hampton and will arrive this afternoon.

INFATUATED MAN KILLS SELF WITH GAS AFTER DANCER'S SUICIDE WITH POISON

Vera Lehman.

(By Central Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 9. —Life held no solution for the love problem of Vera Lehman, the slave girl of "Aphrodite," and Dr. Louis Koemmenich, former Ontario Society conductor, and so they sought solace in death.
Vera Lehman died first. They found her unconscious with a bottle of veronal besides her. She never regained her senses.
Thirteen hours later Koemmenich died in a similar manner. He was found in the kitchen of his home by a maid who smelled gas.
Vera was the dancer whose work in "Aphrodite" made her famous overnight. Koemmenich, a master of music, formerly conducted the great New York Ontario Society.
Their was an odd romance. She was twenty-one, beautiful and on the verge of a promising career. He was fifty-five, burned out by adversity and fallen to the low level of an orchestra conductor with a road show.
He was married with grown children and even a grandchild; she single, unwed, devoted to her career and—to him.
They met with "Aphrodite" while touring the provinces. He was impressed by her voice and planned to give her vocal training. Came love.
But always the specter of Koemmenich's wife and family haunted them. Twice Koemmenich attempted suicide vainly. Vera promised Mrs. Koemmenich not to see the musician again.
Then at the end of her earthly resources the girl took veronal. She left no message. Police were mystified.
But a few hours later the death of Koemmenich solved the mystery for he left a note. It read: "Just received word that Vera committed suicide. There is nothing else for me to do."

Boll Weevil Control.
By W. E. Jackson
Assistant Entomologist A. and M. College.

As another active season for the boll weevil approaches a close, and the cotton crop is being placed on the scales, the cotton grower will get a fair idea whether or not the methods of control employed were effective during the growing of his crop. Now is a good time to check up on Mr. Boll Weevil and his adversary, the log drag, in growing cotton under boll weevil conditions.

Another year of boll weevil warfare has only added strength to our belief that the fall treatment is best and cheapest.
The boll weevil cannot live upon any plant as food except cotton in this state. The adult beetle needs to be well fed just prior to going into winter quarters. After the bolls have become dry and hard and therefore do not furnish suitable food material for the adults, they feed upon the foliage and will continue to feed on second growth from the base of the cotton stalks if the top has shed its leaves or been killed by early frost.

Harvest the cotton crop as soon as practical. The plants or cotton stalks may be either plowed under or uprooted, piled in rows and later burned. Allow no green cotton leaves to exist. See to it that no second growth occurs or reoccurs after this fall treatment. Deprive the boll weevil of his fall supply of food and force him into hibernation or starve him to death. The pasturing of cotton stalks is not sufficient to keep down second growth.
Some farmers practiced the burning of hibernating quarters last fall and cotton growing adjacent to such treated lands showed less boll weevil damage.

Cotton plants should be removed from the soil or destroyed as soon as practical in the fall. One month before a killing frost will give quite a long famine period for the adult weevils. If this insect is forced into winter quarters on an empty stomach, it has one chance in fifty to survive and awake in the spring from the long winter nap. The destruction of food plants in the early fall and also the destruction of hibernating places will go a long way toward reducing boll weevil damage to a minimum next spring. The boll weevil hibernates in timber, grass, leaves, out-buildings, hay stacks, thickets and growths on the banks of creeks, etc.

construction of storage houses have been prepared by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and can be obtained by writing for a copy of Farmers' Bulletin 970. "Sweet Potato Storage."

The principle of modern storage for sweet potatoes is to keep them warm and dry. The first ten or fifteen days after placing the tubers in storage, the house is kept at a temperature of 85 degrees F., the ventilators being kept open so that excessive moisture is driven off. After being cured, the roots will keep six or seven months. After the first two weeks the temperature is lowered and kept at about 45 or 50 degrees F.

Storage of the sweet potato on a large scale benefits both grower and consumer. The grower is enabled to sell a much larger quantity and at a lower figure for the period of consumption is extended five or six months. The price for storage house potatoes in the winter is considerably higher than the grower is able to receive at digging time. The quality of the sweet potato improves during storage when properly kept for the proportion of sugar content increases from one to two percent at digging time to five and six percent in January.
